Students to Discuss
Duplessis Action
On Roncarelli

By ALLAN KNIGHT
Following the general disapproval noted on the campus towards the actions of Premier Maurice Duplessis in the case of the Witnesses of Jehovah and the cancellation of the liquor license of Roncarelli's Cafe, the President of the Students Executive Council, Alec Ross, last night, at the regular Council meeting, decided to call a meeting of the Students Society for Thursday afternoon at 5 in the Union Ballroom to further express student opinion on the matter and to decide on the course of action to be taken by McGill students.

Further, the Council heartily endorsed the sentiments expressed by the temporary committee of the McGill Civil Liberties League which drew up the petition which has been circulating on the campus. To date over 550 students have signed this petition which states that "We, the undersigned students of McGill University, wish to register our protest of the actions taken by Premier Duplessis against the Witnesses of Jehovah. Although we do not support this particular act or its methods, we recognize that the fundamental rights of freedom of speech and of worship must be observed in a democratic society. Vets Conference Scheduled Dec. 27-29 at McGill

It was announced yesterday by Len Starkey, President of the National Conference of Student Veterans, that this year's conference, to be held on Dec. 27, 28, 29, will take place in the McGill Union.

Among those who have been invited to address the assembled delegates are Principal E. Cyril James, and the Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Minister of Veterans' Affairs, who has been asked to speak at the opening session.

One of the main questions on the agenda of the conference will be that of maintenance grants. This will include the correlation of cost of living surveys made on most of the Canadian camps during the last year.

"Policies and not Politics must be the criterion for leadership," said William M. Hall, Chairman of the Ex-Service Committee of the Students' Administrative Council at Toronto, in a letter announcing the support of the University of Toronto Veterans to the Conference and requesting each organization to send three delegates.

Replies to the conference call have already been received from fourteen universities and vocational training schools and it is expected that this conference will be even more representative than last year.

This will be the second year that the conference has been held in Montreal, as the inaugural conference last year, for which the McGill Student Veterans' Society

Hackett Guest Speaker

W. T. Hackett, economist of the Bank of Montreal, will speak at the Commerce Undergraduate Supper Wednesday, December 11, on "Some Aspects of Canadian External Trade Policy." This supper is scheduled for the Union Grillroom at 6.15. Tickets are for sale in the Tuck Shop, off George Woods, Mike Townsend, Bob Patterson, Gord Pfeiffer and class presidents.

took the initiative, was held at the University of Montreal.

Last year it was shown, on the basis of statistics, that there was a danger of a number of veterans being forced to give up their training for financial reasons. This has since become a very practical problem for many veterans who are finding it difficult to carry on under the present conditions.

Acclimated to posts on the SEC are again reminded of the necessity of turning in photos of themselves into The Daily Office not later than 8 p.m. tonight.

Model Parliament Tomorrow at Eight; Dr. Ollivier Speaker

Grads Sponser Dance At Ballroom Saturday

On December 14 at 8:30 in the Union Ballroom, the Graduate Society will hold another of their parties. Sweet music provided by Hugh Lynch and his orchestra, soft lights to sooth the romantic heart, walls hung with cartoons illustrating various aspects of college life, and ample refreshments will contribute to the evening's fun. Lavish door and spot prizes will be yours on Saturday. Everyone is welcome and tickets will be on sale at the door at $1.00 per couple.

U. of M., L.P.P., C.C.F., P-C's In Opposition

Tomorrow in the Union Ballroom at 8 p.m., the second session of the Model Parliament will have a new party. Students from the University of Montreal will head the Opposition, providing McGill students with a real opportunity to meet politically conscious Carabins. This Wednesday's session of the Model Parliament has for its Speaker Dr. Maurice Ollivier, K.C., F.R.C.S. Dr. Ollivier, who has held many distinguished legal positions, is at present Joint Law Clerk of the House of Commons, and has held this position since he joined the House in 1925.

LEGAL ADVISER

In 1928 he assisted the late Ernest Lapointe in the deliberations at London which gave rise to the Statute of Westminster of 1931, which finally gave to Canada her status as an independent nation. Recently, Dr. Ollivier held the important post of legal adviser to the Canadian delegation at the Paris Peace Conference.

Dr. Ollivier has been the author of numerous books and treatises on constitutional law, notably "Le Canada, Pays Souverain," "L'Avance Constitutionnel du Canada," and "Problems of Canadian Sovereignty." In 1935 he was awarded the D.L.D. for his thesis on the Statute of Westminster which he presented at the University of Montreal.

LIBERALS IN POWER

The Liberals will form the Government, and have presented a resolution to carry out the Dominion Government proposals of the latest Dominion-Provincial Conference. The C.C.F., L.P.P., and Progressive Conservatives will be in opposition to the Government, but they are understood to favour certain parts of the resolution.

The L.P.P. is expected to take the view that the Liberal fiscal proposals are an admission that under capitalism depressions are inevitable. The C.C.F. have proposed that

WHAT MAKES SAMMY RUN?

Over the weekend, the Panel Committee on Student Government completed its report. The original plan had been to gather and coordinate data from other Universities, concerning their forms of student government. To implement this, a questionnaire on several phases of student government was sent out.

These equisitions were designed to find out what was being done on various camps concerning representation by population on student councils, preferential voting on campus elections, control over student athletics, and powers of student councils. To date, however, only several Universities have been in a position to complete the questionnaires for the 9th of December, the final date for the submission of reports by the local panels; several others have indicated that they will have all the questionnaires answered for the Christmas Conference.

Here at McGill, we have condensed the Students' Society Constitution and the report of the Athletics Investigating Committee. We have made no recommendations for changes in the Athletics set-up, feeling that such changes must proceed from the logical source, those most affected, the student body; we have merely summarized the suggestions contained in the A.I.G. report, believing

Yoselevitch Addresses Hillel On Palestine Issue Tomorrow

Ovadia Yoselevitch, the Delegate from the Jewish Agency in Palestine to Canadian Zionist organizations will address a special meeting of the Hillel Zionist Group on Wednesday, December 11th at 8.30 p.m. at the Hillel House, Stanley Street.

Mr. Yoselevitch, who has been in Canada only a short time, will deal in his address with the most recent political developments regarding Zionism and Palestine, with special reference to the current World Zionist Congress, which convened in Basle, Switzerland, last Sunday, as well as to the present situation in the Holy Land.

EARLY SETTLER

The speaker who was born in Poland, has lived in Palestine for more than 15 years and is one of the original settlers of one of the largest communal settlements. He was active in organizing the Jewish Brigade who fought with the British Eighth Army since the early part of the war. Here in Canada he is organizing Jewish youth to go to Palestine to help build many move settlements like his own.

It is felt that Mr. Yoselevitch's talk will be of vital interest to many students and that he is particularly well fitted to give the answers to some of the questions about Palestine which are uppermost in everybody's mind today.

A hearty welcome is extended to all those wishing to attend, whether or not they may wish some of the highly controversial questions which Mr. Yoselevitch is sure to raise. Refreshments will be served.

Bovey Shield Finalists Meet

The Bovey Shield finals will be held this Wednesday at 7.30 p.m. in the Dawson Theatre with the McGill finalists journeying to St. John.

This marks the first time in the history of the event that the finals have taken place outside the city, and Col. Wilfred Bovey will be present to commemorate the occasion.

The McGill finalists of last week's competition are Hugh Hamilton and Libby Parkin while the winners from Dawson are Haig and Powell. The winner of the finals receives the Bovey Shield, emblematic of freshman impromptu debating ability.

The topic for the debate will appear in Wednesday's Daily and the competitors may speak on either side of the topic for a maximum of five minutes. Speeches may be in either English or French.

President Isadore Rosenfeld will journey to Dawson and act as chairman. Judges for this event will be announced in tomorrow's Daily.

Quorum Required for Today's Vet. Meeting to Be Official

Election of delegates and discussion of policies for the National Conference will be the main items on the agenda of the meeting of the Student Vets' Society, which is scheduled to meet today in the Union Ballroom at five o'clock.

Last Thursday, it was found impossible to hold the formal meeting owing to a lack of a quorum; they were short about thirty members. The constitution requires a turnout of fifty per cent. of the membership, and the executive have requested that every student veteran should be present at this meeting to ensure the necessary quorum and that the meeting will thus be fully representative of McGill.

The conference is scheduled to take place here at McGill during the Christmas holidays, and representatives are coming from different Universities all across Canada.

Short reports will be submitted by various committee members. This will be followed by the election of three delegates to the Conference to present the views of the Society. There will be a period of discussion for the presentation of policies to be forwarded to the National Conference.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT

There will be a meeting of the McGill Student Veterans' Society in the Ballroom of the McGill Union at five o'clock today, Tuesday.

Reports of various committees, the election of delegates to the forthcoming National Conference of Student Veterans, and a discussion of the policies to be presented at the Conference will compose the agenda for this meeting.

All student Veterans are urged to attend this meeting to ensure that there will be a quorum.

FRANK B. COMMON,
President, McGill Student
Veterans' Society.

Coeds Stage Xmas Dance December 14

Contrary to reports in last week's Daily to the effect that tickets for the annual R.V.C. Christmas Dance on Saturday, Dec. 14, will be sold to both men and women students, it has now been decided to make this event a strictly "Sadies Hawkins" affair, and tickets will be available only to coeds. This is practically the only campus event at which the tables are reversed and the girls take the boys out on a date.

Sponsored by the Women's Union, the dance takes place in the Upper Gym at R.V.C. from 8.30 p.m. to midnight, and Christmas carols will be sung from 12 to 12.30 a.m. The music will be provided by Don Cameron's orchestra and vocalists, and a varied program of entertainment has been planned for the intermission, including a freshie chorus line, skits, quartets, carol singing, and Santa Claus himself. Throughout the evening free refreshments will be available in the new R.V.C. Cafeteria where sandwiches, cakes and coffee will be served.

The Gym will be decorated in the usual holiday spirit, including Christmas trees, lights, mistletoe, etc. Tickets are now on sale at $1.50 per couple, and may be bought from the following people: Betty Torrance, Sue Koohlow, Joan Peterson, Sydney Fullerton, Janet Nicholson, Joy McKay, Marion MacGibbon, Jerry Ayre, Rae Hunter, Kayo Little, Susie Read, Martha Morgan.

The present campaign will continue, running till Monday. On Monday, the desk will be open from 2 till 6 p.m. The students have been asked to give their donations when approached by a canvasser, whether they are on the canvasser's list or not.

Woodhouse to Speak

"The Conflict Between Freedom and Security" will be the subject of an address tonight by Dr. W. D. Woodhouse. The lecture is one of the series of meetings of the Staff-Student Forum and will be held in the Church of the Messiah at 8.15 p.m. After the address, a question period will be staged.

Besides the address, announcements will be made concerning the future meetings of the forum, as well as the future aspects that will be covered.

Campaign Is Encouraged by Festival's Gift

Five hundred dollars, presented to the McGill Rink-Auditorium by Eddie Ballon on behalf of the Athletics Night Committee, has initiated a new burst of enthusiasm for the campaign, it has been declared.

Bud Trivett, Chairman of the Campaign, in a statement today expressed the appreciation of the committee for the gift. "It is most encouraging to receive this substantial backing from the Committee, coming, as it does, in the middle of the campaign," he stated.

It was reported that a donation of $50 has been received from Sydney Fullerton on behalf of R.V.C. Resident Students' Society. Those in charge of the campaign have expressed the hope that the students will continue to back all future festival and drives so that the $10,000 may be raised.

All canvassers have been requested to return unused receipts, blank cheques and ribbons to the office at the top of the stairs on the third floor above the Registrar's office in the East Wing of the Arts Building. They were urged to attend to this immediately as such supplies are needed. The desk will be open on Wednesday afternoon from 4 till 6 o'clock.

The present campaign will continue, running till Monday. On Monday, the desk will be open from 2 till 6 p.m. The students have been asked to give their donations when approached by a canvasser, whether they are on the canvasser's list or not.

CORRECTION

The story relating the arrest of a "McGill Student" appearing in yesterday's Daily was at fault when it called Simon Malamed a student of McGill. Malamed is a graduate of the university in Electrical Engineering, class of May, 1946. It is now apparent that Malamed's claim of being a McGill student is somewhat belated, despite his possession of undergraduate cards.

4 Posts Contested At Polls

OPEN 9-3

Scarlet Key, Wing Reps Voted On At Same Time

Voting for representatives to the Students' Executive Council will be held today in four faculties, while members of the Scarlet Key and Red Wings will be elected by the major faculties, with the exception of Medicine.

With five out of the nine student representatives being acclaimed only the Arts and Science, Commerce, Law and RVC posts are being contested.

As the official hosts of the university, the Red Wings and Scarlet Key are composed of members elected from the junior and sophomore years of the major faculties and schools. All groups vote today for students contesting posts on these organizations, which votes tomorrow.

Voting hours vary in the different faculties nad camp, 9. a.m. to 3 p.m. being the most popular period. At Dawson students vote from 10 to 2 p.m. in the Canteen.

Election of Students' Executive Council representatives is being conducted by each faculty undergraduate body, who chooses the time of voting independently of other organizations. Red Wing and Scarlet Key elections are also being handled by each of the undergraduate bodies. In each of these two societies, posts are separated into two classes, resident and non-resident in the case of the Red Wings, and Class A and Class B for the Scarlet Key.

More complete details of where to vote may be found elsewhere in this issue.

The following students have been nominated for the various positions:

Whither the Wind?

The topic of elections appears to be received on this campus with as much enthusiasm as the most undesired charity drive. That this is a very poor state of affairs is obvious to anyone who cares to think about it—but very few McGill students do that. This unhappy situation leaves us with a few alternatives. On one hand we can continue as we are, which is what we will most probably do. On another, we can give up any hopes of having an elected governing body and revert to an appointed Council, which will most likely be unrepresentative and will conduct student affairs in a manner hostile to the opinion of the majority. That, we are certain, will appeal to few people. Or, we may suddenly see the light and realize the importance of elections. If this happens, there will be no such disgrace as having an individual representing large faculties such as Engineering and Medicine by acclamation, but the best man will win only after a battle where he will have proved himself. This is not meant as a slight against the men who will represent the above faculties on the next Council, but is meant to be a blast against the disinterest and generally apathetic situation existing in those groups at the present time. Further, if the majority of students come to realize the importance of Council elections, we will note a large and spirited vote, which is obviously absent at McGill, and which will remain absent as long as students treat elections as a necessary evil which must be accepted from time to time.

How can one expect a wide-awake Executive Council when the individuals on that body represent a handful of members in a particular faculty and when that Council are aware of the lack of interest on the part of the remainder of their "constituents"? It is amazing how active the past few Councils, as well as the present one, have been under the circumstances of their elections. Certainly, it would only be natural for them to put off decisions on major items and act lackadaisically toward minor business items, for that is the attitude which is prevalent on the campus they supposedly represent.

Perhaps things will change. Perhaps the next election will see several individuals contesting each executive position in campus government bodies, for surely there are that many interested and capable men and women in McGill's various faculties.

In any case, there are four positions which are being put to the vote today. The number in Montreal and at Dawson who disturb their lethargy long enough to mark a ballot and so give some indication of the minds they wish to see on the 1946-47 Students' Executive Council will tell us in some measure which way the wind is blowing. Being ever hopeful, we feel that the wind will tend towards an indication of greater interest in campus government.

Movies

"THE KILLERS"

From the point of view of publicity "The Killers" has everything to recommend it. The film is based on a story by Ernest Hemingway, produced by Mark Hellinger, and perhaps the most important feature, it is directed by Robert Siodmak.

Edmund O'Brien, who plays the role of an investigator for an insurance company, does a fine job and looks throughout the whole film like Humphrey Bogart made up to look like Orson Welles. Burt Lancaster, very much at ease for a newcomer to the screen, displays his ability to carry a role calling for a versatile actor. He has a very fine voice. Ava Gardner, playing the lady surrounded by as sinister and cold a band of murderers as the screen has produced in many a moon, is sultry, cold, treacherous and glamorous at the drop of a scene. Just what contribution her singing makes is not quite clear, perhaps the choice of the song was unfortunate.

It is Mr. Siodmak's work, however, which stands out. He uses the familiar flashback technique a little too often, but this small weakness is more than compensated by a careful exploitation of lighting effects, the building of suspense, gigantic close-ups, and excellent mood music.

E. J.

SISTER KENNY

Sister Kenny, the film sought for and successfully obtained for Rosalind Russell, is worthy of respect in that it chronicles the history of one of the world's greatest fighters with esteem and reverence.

Many of the situations of the film are too contrived and the fact that Hollywood would not produce the biography before some sort of love interest was dug up, takes away from the main interest of the picture. Hence it is not the noble inspiring portrayal it was designed to be.

Miss Russell's portrayal grows in stature as the film proceeds, reaching genuine heights at the conclusion. This portrayal will no doubt add much to her ability as a first rate artist. Alexander Knox is excellent as Dr. McDonnell, while Philip Merivale and Dean Jagger turn in creditable performances.

HOLIDAY IN MEXICO

A gay and rather amusing comedy is being featured at Loew's Theatre, for the second week. Jane Powell sings and acts and has a crush on Jose Iturbi. This greatly distresses Roddy McDowell. A second love interest is provided by Walter Pidgeon and Ilona Massey. Amid plushy sets and exotic music, this long picture meanders sluggishly and pleasantly, and a nice time is had by all.

DEAD OF NIGHT

At the Imperial: Seeing these pictures in the late evening seems to make them even less convincing if one is to judge from the snore emanating from all directions in the audience. Using a time tried plot (The Woman In The Window) the main connecting character of the picture dreams up a murder and then goes out and proceeds to fulfill his dream. That's all for "Dead of Night". It's nice if you like that kind of stuff.

If you like Grade X Western too,
The Imperial bill is the thing for you.

S. J.

MR. ACE

At the Princess: George Raft plays the dishonest politician, who suddenly gets righteous, falls in love with a beautiful U.S. (it could only happen in the U.S.) congresswoman, and starts blubbering morals and ethics all over the screen. It is not at all convincing to see a supposedly hardened politician "get religion," to quote Mr. Raft and put into office someone who is going to end his reign as ward boss.

However, if you are tired of reading Anderson and Grimm and long for more fairy stories, by all means see this picture. For the LADIES: Miss Sylvia Sydney struts through the picture in some comely ensembles.

Dagwood and Blondie adequately fill the time between showing of "Mr. Ace".

Christmas Issue

The Annual Christmas Issue of The Daily will feature the usual Christmas Short Story contest, with the traditional $5 prize. Stories need not necessarily have a specific Christmas interest. All contributions must be typed, double spaced, one side of the paper only, signed in ink with the author's real name, not exceed 1,500 words in length, and they can be left either in the box in front of the Daily Office or at the Tuck Shop, clearly marked "Feature Editor, Christmas Issue."

The issue is largely a Feature department publication, and contributions of prose, poetry, and special articles are solicited. The short stories will be judged by a committee of editors; all students except those on the masthead of The Daily are eligible to submit entries.

The Christmas Short Story Contest is an annual event.

It is important that all contributions to the Christmas Contest be handed in before 1 p.m. on Wednesday, December 12th.

RINK AUDITORIUM

Dear Sir,—
I should like to add my voice to that of Miss Howell (lest hers should seem to be the voice of one crying in the wilderness). Though her point of view, so courageously expressed in your columns, seems unusual at McGill at this time, nevertheless, looked at in a larger context, it is entirely reasonable. Let us never lose sight of the fact that, as that great American, Mr. Wendell Wilkie, pointed out, this is "One World" that we are living in now (with a vengeance). Surely it is more important that students at Leyden, Utrecht or Prague have books at the present time than that we at this University have a skating rink. I shall be glad to subscribe to Miss Howell's fund to send parcels to Europe: it had not hitherto been brought to my attention.

"The Price of Freedom Is Eternal Vigilance". Show Duplessis that we are awake by supporting the petition!

With reference to Mr. Rubin's letter, I must admit that I am not a student of economics, but have a feeling that some of his arguments are a little specious, especially the one about the building "furnishing employment for many construction workers that might otherwise be employed." (I take it he means "unemployed.")

Yours sincerely,
TOM PICKUP.

Dear Sir:

Permit me the means of the Daily to reply to Miss Mary Howell on a topic indeed very important to each McGill student.

I would say that the poor girl is still quite mad. I incidentally leave the interpretation of the word to each individual, since it is obvious that McGill is in dire need of that Rink-Auditorium which she so bitterly opposes (charity begins at home Miss Howell) and I further ask Miss Howell what could McGill do even if the above were not built, where UNR RA failed?

In addition, as an after thought, I would like to add that these people over there will never again ferment wars if starvation and post war afflictions deal them harshly enough. Could it be that through a calamity, the like of which she depicted in her last two letters was drawn a chance of lasting peace?

Cynical viewpoint is it not? Yet much more practical than seeing perfectly good Canadians dying of starvation but of the sword, which incidentally always is first drawn by these people who are now starving.

Let's have this Rink-Auditorium McGill.

Yours truly,
R. E. CORRIGAN,
Commerce 2.

DAWSON SOCIALS

Through the medium of your fine newspaper, we eagerly read a letter from a couple of co-eds deploring the lack of transportation to Dawson College for Basketball games and dances. Weheartily endorse their opinion that the St. John's girls have absolutely nothing that the R.V.C. girls haven't a great deal more of.

There is no need whatever for such a dearth of feminine companionship out here. Dawson Day was a rousing success from every point of view, and we feel that such successful evenings can be repeated. As we are an official part of McGill, we ought to receive our due share of social activities that our city cousins are enjoying in Montreal.

Let us hope that this letter will not merely die a natural death on the pages of the Daily, but that the Students' Council will remedy an exceedingly deplorable situation.

Yours hopefully,
DUNCAN FRASER,
IAN HUTCHISON,
SCOTT FRASER,
and many others.

Dear Sir:

After reading the letter signed "A Couple of Co-Eds" which appeared in the Daily Wednesday, we feel justified in making a few comments of our own.

That the Freshman Reception was enjoyed by all is a presumption on your part because we have never seen a group of boys and girls so ill at ease before. We had been requested to escort the young ladies to supper but after several attempts at shattering their line of resistance we came to the conclusion that it was comparable to forcible entry in a Girl's Residence. Following the dictates of our discretion we quietly retired to the other end of the dining hall and hoped that the coffee might melt the ice. However, when we at last saw the orchestra had warmed up, we apparently lacked sufficient words to tear them away from girl friends and we were left impatiently fumbling with our change while they made up their minds.

In answer to the query: "What have St. John's girls got that we haven't?", we say: "Plenty!" They may not have Betty College's furs or schooling, but they certainly outdo her in personality. When they come to our dances, it is with the prime purpose of dancing, and not for the sullen pleasure of keeping score on the number of "cold shoulders" they have managed to hand out during the evening. Our suggestion is that if such utter boredom and indifference is necessary the Co-eds are in urgent need of a "Blaze Club"—why not organize?

However, despite these strong words we are quite repentant, because many have shown excellent sportsmanship, and to them we extend a hearty welcome and promise to present their case to the Students' Council in order that better and bigger dances be featured at Dawson next term.

A Couple of Dawson Joes.

POLITICAL COMMENT

Veteran Students' Society A Non-Political Comment

Sir:
There is a feeling current among certain Veteran students that the Society should be allowed to languish and die. It is not a feeling that I share. It is not a feeling that has been brought out into the open: I bring it there in order, first, to draw it to the attention of veterans who may not have been aware of it, secondly, completely to disassociate myself, from such an attitude, and finally to combat it.

I have suggested to those advocating such a demise that it would be more straightforward to attend today's general meeting and, having secured a quorum, attempt to apply the coup de grace by means of a resolution of disbandment. The resounding defeat of such a resolution would give the present executive a clear mandate to continue to pursue the society's determined policies with vigour.

When I became a member last year, it was not from any sectional standpoint; it is the unifying principle in all things for which I search. It was not so as to emphasize a separation of veteran from non-veteran; but to participate in carrying over into civil life that which was perhaps the major, valuable contribution to our personalities of our war service—the bond of comradeship which embraced all parts of our population; rich man, poor man; easterner, westerner; New Canadian, French speaking Canadian, English-speaking Canadian; and all the rest.

That bond must not be let slip. The veteran students societies across the country can play their part in maintaining it. There are many interests eager to profit by a decay of such a sense of identification of one man with his fellow, whomsoever he be.

Further, the problems of the veteran student are not the same as those of the non-veteran; no organization other than a veterans' society can present them, adequately.

It was in no "post office in our parish" spirit in which our executive presented the veterans' brief in Ottawa for an increase in veterans' allowances, intensification of the housing programme and the rest, which they placed before the cabinet members. It is not suggested that the attempted convincing of the ministers was on a political letter of Friday omitted but one argument against Mr. Duplessis' unjustifiable dehydrating order against a local cafe owner. I refer to the fact that the subterranean section of Mr. Roncarelli's premises is one of the most congenial and civilized dispensaries of potable

Dawson Quintet in First Place Bid in Cage Tilt Tomorrow

The Dawson Senior MBL entry plays Rockland at the Sir Arthur Currie Gym. tomorrow evening, in what may be a game that will lift the St. Johns collegians into a first place tie in league standings. This encounter, slated to get under way at 8.00 p.m., will be followed by a regularly-scheduled contest between the league-leading YMHA and Steve Armstrong's Georgians. If the former group should lose, and the Dawsonites win, a first-place tie would result.

ROCKLAND WINLESS

The Rocklanders have yet to pull in a victory in two league games, but the crew has shown considerable improvement in recent outings, and appears to pace a potent scoring punch. "Happy" Kasloff has replaced ex-Shipmate "Red" Ruvinsky as coach, and his Out-

Floor Hockey League Starts With 2 Games

The McGill Floor Hockey League got off to a resounding start last night at the Currie Gym with two matches being played. In the opener the Engineers downed a short-handed Commerce sextet 5-1, while in the aftermath the same Engineers fell victims to a combination of Arts, Science and Law players. The league operates every Monday night at 7.30 and every team has plenty of room for more players, especially the Commerce squad who only had six men down last night.

In the first tilt Morty Handler paced the Beer Hall bombardiers by tallying four of his team's five counters, McDonald notching the other one. For the Accountants, Quinn notched the lone goal. The tilt was fast-moving throughout and although the final score was somewhat one-sided, the play was much closer.

The Engineers found the going a little tougher in the second match when they ran up against a strong Combine sextet. Hendle and McVittie tallied for the losers while Dick Wilson led the winners with three goals. Bourbons and Westbrook racked up the other two games, coming to grips with the Engineers first and then taking on the Combines.

Varsity Match Is Crucial Game For Rampaging Red Pucksters

Red-hot after their close 3-2 victory over the Carabins of the University of Montreal, the Rampaging Redmen are out to make it two straight at the expense of the Varsity Blues this Friday.

Boasting one of the best two-way lines in Intercollegiate hockey in the Hale brothers and Reggie Sinclair as well as the finest goaler in Jack Gelineau, the Redmen are rated pre-game favorites.

Varsity Beats Queen's

Varsity won their first game of the year defeating the gloomy Gaels 7-1 but they are reported to be much weaker than last year having lost Wally Halder and Bill Kosick.

Campbell's crew however are not taking this contest lightly. Ace Bailey always comes up with a first rate team that shines when the chips are down. The teams are both waiting in anticipation for this match for the winner will be in the driver's seat come the rest of the schedule after Christmas.

SATURDAY ROUGH

The boys are still licking their bruises after Saturday's game, in what was one of the roughest matches in recent years. The McGill squad looked somewhat ragged but Coach Campbell expects to take all the kinks out of the plays before the week end.

Frenchmen Win Tilt In Closing Minutes; Rochon and Elo Star

by Liz

Flash At last the results of the Intercollegiate Telegraphic Archery meet are in. The results have taken some time to come in although the competition was held here quite a while ago.

Apparently arrows flew thickest and fastest at Queen's where they chalked up the winning score of 1945 points. Coming in second in this feather flying competition was the Western aggregation with 1570 points.

ARCHERY CONTEST

Our old Alma Mater shot arrows on a raw cold day in early November. Though cold and wet, the team managed to take third place by a total score of 1172. MacMaster came in next with 843 points and Alma College scored 694 points.

In the individual scoring, Marion Weims of McGill took third place with 293 points, Jerry Barclay of Queen's coming first with 337 points and Connie Tucker of Western coping second place three points ahead of Marion.

TO PLAY MAC

Though McGill did not do brilliantly in this match of bow and arrow, they still have time for plenty of practice before meeting Macdonald early in the new year.

P.S.: Don't forget to sign up now for the Archery competition taking place on Wednesday night at the Rifle Range. The list has been posted on the R.V.C. notice board.

Speaking of dates, Squashettes don't forget your date at the Currie Gym at 2.15 p.m. Mrs. McCarthy will be on hand with helpful advice and tips on the game. Let's have a good crowd out to profit by this opportunity. How about it, hm?

News among the fencers tends towards the social this week. Mary Lea Featherstonhaugh is in charge of the arrangements and states that a room has been reserved in the Currie Gym for this big event. Junior Waterpoloists Beat Maisonneuve

Displaying an all round superiority in all departments, the McGill junior waterpoloists swamped the inexperienced Maisonneuve seven by a score of 11-4 last night in the latter's home pool.

The Redmen ran up an early lead and were never threatened as they scored almost at will. Top scorer for the McGill crew was Manny Hoffmann, who dented the wing four times while Parkinson, Mullins and Cameron each tallied twice.

Highlight of the game occurred in the dressing room afterwards, when Bob Tilden displayed a new style of pale blue drawers to the amusement of his teammates.

McGill Squash Team Victors in Weekend Games, Beat Three Colleges, Lose to Harvard At Boston

"Due to some unfortunate misunderstanding the Daily was unable to run this story last night."

A well-battered but happy squash team arrived back in town yesterday, having defeated Amherst, Williams and M.I.T., losing only to Harvard by a narrow margin.

It was the first time a Canadian University had competed with American Colleges in this sport. Rarely does McGill have the opportunity to defeat so many 'big names' in such a short time.

HARVARD FIRST

The team arrived at Boston early Saturday morning, and were taken over to Harvard with its quaint streets, English bicycles and bow ties. The first matches began right away.

After one hour of play however McGill was in a bad spot. Bob Colquhoun and Don Farlinger ran into very tough opposition, losing both their matches. At the same

The fighting Carabins reversed an earlier verdict last night as they clipped the Intermediate cagers 35-25 in the second meeting of the year between the perennial college rivals.

However, though the ten point difference might give an appearance of a one-sided game, the verdict was in doubt until the end. The game started with a fast McGill attack culminating in an early lead for the home squad. The play was hectic with first one team forging ahead and then the other. Elo and Moffatt paced the McGill attack with 8 points each while for the boys from the hill, it was Rochon who scintillated, netting 15 points.

McGILL LEADS AT HALF

Finally, just before the half, a McGill basket and free shot put the Red and White ahead 15-12 at the intermission. The half time pause, however, put a damper on the Red team. With the start of the second half, the University of Montreal boys took over the majority of the play until with 4 minutes to go the score stood at 25 all.

At this point Legare endeavored himself to the Blue and Gold, for two quick baskets by the flashy Frenchman gave them a lead which was never threatened. The McGill team put in a good game throughout but made the fatal mistake of relaxing at the wrong time. The result: University of Montreal 35, McGill 25.

This victory was a vital one for the Carabins, for they are now in a first place tie with Macdonald.

BEAT Y.M.C.A.

Last Thursday night the Red cagerettes chalked up their initial win of the season when they defeated the Y.M.C.A. on the Y's home court. The Y kept the Reds hopping during the first part of the game when they tied the score at the end of the first quarter 11-11.

Apparently this early lag was due to the unfamiliarity of the floor. As soon as the McGill squad got their bearings however on the small court, they sailed ahead to a 46-24 point win.

Nominees' Platforms

Barbara E. Jackson

The girl elected as R.V.C. representative to the Students' Executive Council has a threefold responsibility: to represent women students on the Council, to work on the Council in the interest of all McGill students, and to fill the office of Vice-President of the Women's Union.

If elected, I will do all I can to fulfill these responsibilities. It is impossible now to forecast all the questions which will arise and to make definite statements about them; however, there are a few points which I think worthy of consideration here.

In spite of recent efforts, the activities of the Women's Union are still comparatively unknown to many women students. I feel that as part of a programme to make students more aware of the role of the Women's Union, the Women's News Editor of The Daily should be either on the executive of the Women's Union or else attend all executive meetings.

I would advocate fullest support of the M.W.S.A.A., urging more sports but not proficent enough for major teams.

Women's facilities in the Arts Building should be improved. Clothes racks or more lockers should be provided, the common room needs redecorating, and the washroom should be kept more adequately supplied.

With women taking an ever increasing part in campus activities, the role of their only direct representative on the Council is important. If elected, I would at all times work to make the Council a vigorous, representative body of student opinion and try to express the feelings of the women students on it.

In conclusion I would like to say that I will be very glad to answer any questions on points not covered in this platform, if they are left at the R.V.C. switchboard.

Marie W. Mottola

The position of R.V.C. Representative to the Student's Executive Council is not only one of importance, but also one of honor. It is important in that the Representative has a two-fold responsibility. In the first place she represents the Women Undergraduates on the S.E.C., the governing board of all undergraduate activities. She must, therefore, work in close cooperation with the members of the Council who represent all the Faculties, and consequently must attempt to understand the problems of their faculties, as well as wholeheartedly foster the wishes of the students she represents.

Secondly, she is Vice-President of the Women's Union, and here her duty is, by contact with the women undergraduates, to become aware of the needs of the students and to be keenly cognizant of necessary improvements.

The Women's Union is a vital organization for the Undergraduates, for it is this organization to which we owe the molding of our cultural, social and recreational life. Since last year the Women's Union has secured new headquarters and a new lounge in R.V.C., and further plans include more facilities which will be available in the new wing of R.V.C.

I wish to thank those who supported my nomination. It is an honor to be able to assist in the work which ultimately results in the welfare and happiness of all of us who attend McGill; and if elected, I shall work to the best of my ability to fulfill the requirements of a capable Representative to the S.E.C. and Vice-President of the Women's Union.

Drusilla Riley

I should like first to express how much I appreciate the honour of being nominated for this position, and to thank all those who supported my nomination.

The R.V.C. representative to the Students' Executive Council must have a keen interest in the activities and concerns of the student body. Also she must be in contact with the students so as to be aware of their needs and desires. Cooperation is essential for any organization and the R.V.C. representative must work with and do her best to maintain the fine standards of both the Students' Executive Council and the Women's Union. Also she should encourage and aid greater participation in McGill life by women students, both resident and non-resident.

I appreciate the necessity of a representative who has the above qualifications, and I am willing if elected to do my best to act in the interests of the student body. If elected I shall be your representative, and I will appreciate your suggestions and criticisms.

In presenting my platform to the general student body, I should like to advance a few general comments in connection with the position being contested.

It has become customary for candidates when campaigning for a campus position, to enumerate specific innovations and changes which they intend to introduce in the event of their election. It is my contention that a representative of the general student body should be first and foremost the spokesman for the group she represents, and as such would be primarily interested in advancing, fostering, and supporting the suggestions raised by the majority of the co-eds for whom she is authorized to act. Accordingly, rather than a lengthy list of "campaign promises", I offer to the co-eds of McGill a sincere desire to understand, to introduce, and to promote, to the best of my ability, their collective viewpoints and suggestions.

In closing I should like to thank all those girls, who so generously nominated me as a candidate for the position of R.V.C. Representative to the Students' Executive Council.

H. T. W. Blockley

In submitting my candidature as faculty representative to the students of the Law Faculty I would give the following assurances. I promise to endeavour:

1. To consider every problem coming before the Council on its own merits; in a non-partisan view; not in accordance with any preconceived "line" of thought or prejudice.
2. To represent by advancing, fostering and supporting their wishes, the law students in a legal, constitutional fashion.
3. To act in a spirit of conciliation and compromise on all issues, except on those involving attitudes contrary to fundamental democratic principles.
4. To make my contribution towards an attitude of "fair play" concerning the decisions of the Council, no matter whom or what that decision concerns.

5. Generally, to govern my actions and statements solely in the interests of the student body of McGill, and in the interests of the students of the Law Faculty in particular, according to the best of my ability. I would take this opportunity to thank my nominators for the honour I feel they have done me in putting forward my name as a candidate.

Michael Oliver

The representative of the Faculty of Arts and Science on the S.E.C. has a two-fold responsibility. He must have in mind the problems of his own faculty as well as those which affect the student body as a whole.

On behalf of the faculty, I would, if elected, advocate:

1. Increased council support and accommodation for Arts and Science clubs.
2. Further consideration of an increase in the Arts and Science representation on the S.E.C.
3. A solution to the traffic problems of the Arts Building which does not involve the bodily ejection of innocent females attempting to use the front door.

On general University problems, I would focus attention on:

1. Expansion of the score of student governments, especially with regard to athletics.
2. Insuring against the isolation of the Dawson campus, while emphasizing their rights to self-government.
3. Liaison between University authorities and the Student's Society on educational issues, which would allow the student to make a more intelligent selection of courses and lead to reduction of the size of classes and closer student-professor relations. I feel that my work on the Educational Committee of the Arts and Science Undergraduate Society has given me experience with these problems.
4. Full support of Uni-Vets and the proposed university employment service, recognizing the need for student representation on the latter body.
5. Scholarships: Information should be available to all students concerning Canadian and foreign scholarships and every effort made toward increasing their number.
6. Attention to the student housing problem generally, especially with reference to transportation and recreation facilities at the Peterson Residence.

Veteran's Representative on the Summer Committee of the S.E.C., Education Committee of the Arts and Science Undergraduate Society, Employment Panel of NFC US, McGill C.C.F. Club, Students Forum, Red and White Revue 1945, Inter-University Debating.

James Paterson

Students, I believe, are pretty cynical about election platforms. Grandiose and unfulfilled promises have disillusioned voters and lowered the prestige of student government. I believe that the primary function of a representative is to work for the immediate and practical interests of his faculty; naturally these will change from time to time, but five points need immediate attention:

- 1) Students want women cheerleaders, and since mid-Victorian prudery in certain quarters is apparently the only obstacle, forceful action should be taken by the Council to achieve this objective.
- 2) The present move to clean up the Athletics office should be strongly supported. It is in the interest of better athletics that students have a larger control over policy. An immediate effort should be made to integrate McGill-Dawson athletics with a view to Dawsonites playing on intercollegiate teams.
- 3) Housing remains and will remain the number one college problem of veterans and non-veterans alike. Instead of relying on the efforts of campus groups the Council should assume its obvious responsibilities and work to set up a joint committee of students, university authorities and graduates to study and act on this question.
- 4) An adequate system of checking or group insurance should be instituted immediately to deal with the current crime wave in the Union.
- 5) The present rulings on girls entering and leaving the Arts Building should be investigated, with a view to eliminating what must appear to many students as deliberate discrimination and rudeness to co-eds.

I fully realize the limitations of any one member of the Council, and therefore, even if elected I cannot promise to implement every one of the above points. They are listed to indicate the type of problems that I believe your representative should work to solve. My opponent and I are of opposite political views, but I sincerely hope that this will have no influence on the election. I base my appeal for your support solely on the record of my past activities, and the ideas contained in this platform.

Dawsonites head for Montreal fresh after a decisive victory over the vaunted Migos last week, and Coach Charlie Goldbloom reports that his men are improving with every outing. His lineup for this week's encounter will probably feature sharp-shooter Johnny Gearey, leading scorer Kenny Taylor, and aggressive Bobby Forand as an attacking unit. Vern Taylor and Coach Goldbloom will handle guard posts, while "Pop" Keele, ex-Kingston star, "Red" Somers and Jim Holmes are held in reserve. The latter-mentioned player formerly sported the toga of the University of New Brunswick, and acquitted himself nicely in his sole appearance this year.

A large crowd is expected at the Pine Avenue Gym for the tussle, with a number of McGill students on hand to watch and cheer on their sister college's Senior MBL entry. Mentor Goldbloom has high hopes of winning this contest and reports that "our men have the ability to win, and the desire for victory is great." Ability and motivation—powerful stuff.

I would like first of all to thank the Commerce Students, who nominated me to run as their representative to the Students' Executive Council.

In presenting my platform, I shall make no commitments, as to any radical changes in campus Administration, as I believe that the present Council is doing a very commendable job, and it would be my intention of continuing the same practice. However, there is one point I would like to state, and that is that I believe that the Students' Council should increase their budget for the Red and White Revue. The R. & W. is the greatest show of the year put on by the students, and I think that they should be permitted to see their own show at a reduced price, such as is done at the hockey and football games, as well as the Student Subscriptions Concerts.

If elected, I shall do my utmost in presenting the views of the Commerce Undergraduate Society to the Students' Council, and shall attempt to see that they are fully carried out. Being on the C.U.S., I believe myself capable of doing this, and also feel that the experience accumulated by me in my past years at McGill will enable me to execute the responsibilities involved. If defeated, I shall give my whole-hearted cooperation to your representative.

ommendations. Primarily, we would suggest that a clarification be made of the over-all final authority of the Students' Executive Council in making decisions binding on all campus clubs and organizations. This has been brought up by the recent action of the Senate in reversing a decision of the Council which stated, in effect, that non-union orchestras were not to be hired to perform at campus functions. There should be a definite line drawn between what the SEC can and cannot do as the official student governing body.

Secondly, we would recommend a change in the rulings concerning quorums at Student Society meetings. We feel that a quorum of 500 students as presently required will become a figure of extreme proportions in a few years when student enrolment is somewhat less than it is today. As a result we recommend that the quorum figure be set as a percentage of student registration figures. This figure could be released by the registrar as soon as established, some time before the first Society general meeting. The percentage should be determined by the student body and, on the basis of the present figure of 500, would be approximately 7 per cent (7,558 students as of October, 1946). This would mean that quorums would be flexible enough so as to not require a change each time a sudden rise or decrease in student enrolment occurs.

Finally we decided to discard the consideration of a more representative basis for faculty representation to the SEC. Two factors had to be reconciled: the unique contribution and point-of-view that each faculty brings to the campus and that should be represented on the SEC; the difference in faculty student enrolment that must be assimilated according to the system prevalent in democratic countries of representation by capita. It was seen that more comparative information was required from other Universities. The present basis of a representative per faculty ignores the other factor which, if adopted, would imply a dozen members from Arts and Science or Engineering and one from the Faculty of Law or Theology.

However it is the aim of faculty representatives to present the viewpoints of their faculties and not just to put their weight behind motions with the intention of swinging a Council decision according to personal views; this is the policy followed for the most part by faculty representatives here. Each faculty has a distinct type of student and the Council is in essence the point of coordination of these attitudes as applied to student affairs.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that a special meeting of the Students' Society of McGill University has been called by the President to discuss the action of Premier Duplessis in the case of the Witnesses of Jehovah and of Mr. Roncarelli, and generally for a reiteration of the views of the students towards freedom of speech and religion. This meeting will be held at 5 p.m. on Thursday afternoon in the Union Ballroom.

The other main points under discussion last night was the approval of Alec Ross and Clem Beauchamp as official delegates to the NFCUS conference in Toronto during the Christmas holidays.

Parliament should nationalize whatever privately-owned corporations it might find necessary, and introduce a long-term plan to achieve a condition of advancing prosperity and full employment. The Progressive Conservatives want a Dominion-Provincial Conference to be called at once, and the Federal Government to negotiate an agreement with all the provinces on a "give-and-take" basis, the agreement to be subject to periodic revision.

C.I.A.U. This organization, because of a "closed shop" policy, has prevented McMaster's football team and Western's hockey team from entering senior leagues under their control. They are also responsible for the absence of sectional and Dominion playdowns from the Canadian intercollegiate sports picture.

CRITICISM

Dear Sir,—

What gives in the advertising department of The Daily? There is so darn much advertising on the sports page that there is not enough space left to print the sports news. On submitting an important article on sports, I was informed that the sports page was so cramped for space that it couldn't go in for at least a week.

Is the paper printed to inform the students about the latest in wedgwood earthenware at Mappins or about what's going on around McGill?

DICK MEYER,
B.Com. II.

CONSIDER BOTH SIDES.

The Editor, McGill Daily.

Sir:

Like most students these days I am much interested in the Jehovah's Witnesses situation in general and in the Roncarelli case in particular. But rather than jump to an entirely unconsidered conclusion, as many appear to be doing, I am trying to weigh the evidence BOTH PRO AND CON. May I make three brief observations.

1) In Monday's Daily the entire editorial page and much of the rest of the paper were devoted to these matters. Nowhere was there any discussion of the case for the prosecution of the Witnesses; nor of the reasons expressed by the Attorney-General, in Saturday's Gazette and elsewhere, which were in fact not confined to Mr. Roncarelli's efforts concerning bail.

2) The best definition of the Common Law offence of Sedition (not defined in our Code), includes these words: "... to excite discontent and disaffection among His Majesty's subjects, or to promote bad feelings and ill will between different classes of His Majesty's subjects, ...". In most cases of prosecution of Jehovah's Witnesses, this is the offense with which they are charged; they then receive a fair trial before courts well known for their wisdom and impartiality. PROSECUTION IS NOT PERSECUTION.

3) The Quebec "Lol des Liqueurs Alcooliques" (I have only the
